

ABSTRACT

SN.09/602278

ans. 27

Method and system aspects for automated monitoring of quality of service of digital video material being distributed and played are described. The aspects include embedding a signature in each frame of the digital video material by a program source device control.

5 Computation of play-out statistics for the digital video material based on the signature by a program play-out device control is also included.

00E290" 8/220960